Ordesa and Monte Perdido National Park

Read the following text and answer questions 1-3:

This National Park, located in Huesca in the north of Spain, is the heart of the Pyrenees and one of the first protected natural spaces in Europe. Ordesa and Monte Perdido National Park includes four valleys (Ordesa, Añisclo, Escuaín and Pineta), which surround the Mountain "Monte Perdido" (Lost Mountain), the highest limestone* massif in Europe.

Ordesa valley is the soul of the Park. There visitors can enjoy trekking the paths, the environment or the landscapes. Thousands of people from all over the world come and admire its impressive mountains, beautiful waterfalls, wild rivers and fantastic forests. There are many activities to do all over the year. The most popular is the walking route to the "Cola de Caballo" (Horse Tail) waterfall, which is a classic because of its beauty and because it is an easy route available for everyone; visitors may also have the opportunity to spot fauna such as squirrels, vultures, eagles or groundhogs living in the forests.

Torla, located at the entrance of the valley, is a typically charming village from the Pyrenees, which offers the visitor to the National Park every service needed to enjoy their stay. Next to Torla is Broto with a beautiful old part and, in the surrounding area, you shouldn't miss the spectacular Sorrosal waterfall.

Añisclo canyon is a deep cut in the mountain from north to south; this canyon is a narrow alley along the Bellós River, where there are many trekking routes to do as well as lovely tiny villages to discover.

Escuaín valley is the smallest of the four hosted in the National Park and, probably, the least visited. However, it's considered an example of natural strength. Moreover, several protected bird species live there and it is one of the best places for bird watching in the Pyrenees.

Pineta valley is peaceful and it has a glacier-origin U shape. It is surrounded by numerous peaks. There, visitors feel forced to raise their eyesight up to more than 3,000 metres. This valley can be reached from Bielsa, famous for their carnival, the most popular and traditional one in Aragón.

Visiting this National Park with its wild environment is a memorable experience that will remain in the visitors' memory for ever.
